Mirion Technologies Acquires Biodex Medical Systems, Inc.

San Ramon, CA: Mirion Technologies, Inc. acquired Biodex Medical Systems, Inc. effective September 1, 2020. Biodex is a leader in the medical industry, providing customers with nuclear medicine instruments, medical imaging equipment and rehabilitation systems. Biodex's product portfolio complements Mirion's existing portfolio and will allow Mirion to extend its footprint in the medical field.

"We are thrilled to welcome Biodex into the Mirion family. This is a big step towards our strategic objective to grow our medical business, continuing to build on our expertise in radiation measurement to advance human health," says Mike Freed, Chief Operating Officer at Mirion. "We look forward to working with the Biodex team and are excited for the impact this acquisition will have on Mirion's future in the medical field."

This acquisition is consistent with Mirion's strategic expansion plan focused on building its portfolio of industry-leading technology solutions across a range of core and adjacent product segments. Together with Biodex, Mirion will continue creating and developing new offerings in the medical space.
